dramatist as well as manager he selections, at 447 to 451 First avenue, and ted as the corner stone of his new play a story which had already measured up to the democratic standards of a popular flection magazine. The new play was accept, valued at $100,000. The rection of these settings, which be nounced yesterday that the fire in that building caused, in addition to damage to the structure itself, the loss of much stage acenery, valued at $100,000. The destruction of these settings, which belonged principally to the Selwyns and John Golden, will delay the opening of seven productions several weeks.

The opening of "The Circle," starring Henry E. Dixey and due to open at Atlantic City on September 17 for a Southern tour, will probably be delayed. Scenery for this production is a total loss and will have to be duplicated.

"The Exciters," a new play by Martin Brown, featuring Alan Dinehart and Miss Tallulah Bankhead, daughter of Congressman W. B. Bankhead of Alabama, was to open a week from Monday night at Times Square Theater, but it will be postponed to the week of September 25. Scenery for this production was burned.

"The Last Warning," a new mystery play, announced to open at Parson's Theater, that ford, Coun, on next Mon-was burned.

"The Last Warning." a new mystery play, announced to open at Parson's Theater, Hartford, Conn., on next Monday night, lost scenery valued at $3,000. A few weeks ago Miss Ann Mason, the leading woman, who is to play opposite Robert Edeson, the star, went to Coney Island for the first time and while there was thrown from an amusement contrivance. She received injuries to her face from which she has not yet recovered.

The following statement was issued by the Golden offices:

"Cosumes and stage settings of six plays owned by John Golden, play producer, were destroyed in the fire. Three of the plays affected are for production fits season. They are Spite Corner, by Frank Craven; Seventh Heaven, by John Taintor Foote.

"Spite Corner" was the first for production and workmen began to-day building new settings for the play. The three other plays were 'Dear Me. The Wheel' and Turn to the Right, earlier it would have struck a serious blow. as the complete costuming and stage settings were then in the warehouse for Thank U,' which is now in Chicago; for two special companies of 'Lightnin' and 'The First Year.'"

The losses are fully covered by insurance.

ROSELAND TO REOPEN.

Roseland will open for the season tomorrow with an unveiling of the new art decorations by J. T. Curtiss. Novel electrical effects have been installed to carry away his foster dushter. After a while that occupation grew treading and his Roseland Orchestra and Mal Hillett and his orchestra will again play for the dancers, as last season. Louis J. Prockers is the manager.
